

“On My Shelf...” w/ Lanny Hosfield (#4)

Our God is a writing God, therefore he chose to communicate through the written language. Our church is a reading church, therefore we read God’s will from his written word. This is an inescapable fact, that God’s people have always been and forever will be people of the Book. And, of course, there are many books available in our day – through various medium such as print and digital – inconceivable as such would’ve been before the printing press, but there is really only one book that we need to know. And that’s the holy one: the Bible.

Unfortunately, there is a growing poverty of Bible reading in the church (not to mention the world) today. But that’s not to say there isn’t a hunger for it – no, people are hungrier than ever. It’s just that some don’t know it, or don’t realize where they can satiate it; and so, instead, we have many who walk about spiritually emaciated for lack of the living water and bread of life – Christ Jesus who is the Word in the flesh. And it’s in this state that some will seek for nourishment in the wrong places. Daniel Webster once said, “If religious books are not widely circulated among the masses in this country, I do not know what is going to become of us a nation. If truth be not diffused, error will be; if God and His Word are not known and received, the devil and his works will gain the ascendancy; if the evangelical volume does not reach every hamlet, the pages of a corrupt and licentious literature will.”

But let me tell you about some other reading that could potentially be a game changer for you, reading that could profoundly change your perspective, enlighten your mind, motivate you towards maturity and development and, ultimately, enhance your walk with the Lord. God not only gave us the Bible so that we would come to know him better, but being the Giver of every good and perfect gift, he has also talented many people in this world to convey their individual thoughts – thoughts that have the power to change and impact your life. John Piper has a great perspective on this.

“There are bad reasons to turn to other writers besides the Bible. And there are good ones. One of the bad reasons we turn to other writers is that we find the Bible tame and tasteless. It is anything but tame and tasteless. One of the good reasons we turn to other writers besides the Bible is that we savor the taste of God not only in the Bible, but also in the way others savor Him. The best writers intensify our taste for the Bible, and especially for God Himself”
(from the introduction of Taste and See).

Through their books, we should allow these talented writers to take us on a journey to know God better. I know that I’m not the only person who has benefitted personally from the writings of godly people – many of the leaders here at the Brownsburg Church of Christ have too! So what I want to do in these bulletin articles is to periodically ask one of our leaders “Hey, what’s on your bookshelf?” In other words, what books have had the most profound effect on your life and why? Last time we discovered Dave Roberts’s top 5 (read it on our website).

We’re going to continue our series with Lanny Hosfield in this article. Here’s his top 5:

1. Bible (~1500BC – 90AD; God, through various authors).

This is obviously Lanny's (and all's) first choice. But here we need to remember that even though we all accept the Scriptures as our first and most important choice for reading, sometimes that can be lost in all the haze of other reading or any entertainment in general. Our lives need to primarily be pumped full of the Scriptures for only in them is found the light that guides.

2. Conviction VS. Mercy (2013; Gardner Hall).

“Many Christians tend to emphasize either conviction or mercy in their lives but not both. This book emphasizes the importance of merging the two to be truly Christlike. Though combining mercy and conviction has always been a challenge throughout history, it is especially difficult now as our culture is increasingly affected by a Postmodern worldview and the backlash against it.” (Description from Amazon.com). Lanny really appreciates Hall's message because it taught him how conviction and mercy must work together.

3. Muscle and a Shovel (2011; Michael Shank).

This story is basically Shank's testimony of how he came to faith. After moving to the city, Shank befriends a man who really urges him to ask some tough questions regarding the typical understanding of Christianity and to analyze his own faith. After learning much about the church from his friend and studying his own Bible, he commits to Christ.

4. Get Outta My Face! (2009; Rick Horne).

In this book, Horne provides us with understanding on the teenage mind and struggle. Our teenage years are some of the most tumultuous and confusing of our entire lives. So the book was written to grant insight on some ways to communicate with teenagers effectively. It's the key to addressing some contemporary issues.

5. Get Offa My Case! (2012; Rick Horne).

Another book by Horne that Lanny strongly recommends simply because it trains God's people to speak effectively, with grace, toward one another – that is, how we deal with each other. Everyone is made in God's image: so let's treat them that way, even when they might be a defiant teenager.

Henry David Thoreau once wrote something that has never left me: “Read the best books first, or you may not have the chance to read them at all.” So much wisdom for our lives can be gleaned from those who have gone on before, and we miss out on a lot of life’s lessons when we fail to sit at the feet of these wise men and women and the thoughts they’ve shared. Either way, the good news is that we’ll gain wisdom; life has a way of knocking some sense into us (usually). But the better news is that you can learn from the mistakes of others – without making them yourself! But, again, it might take a little reading – and a little reading, as Thoreau said, might take a little time. Are we willing?

Let me put it this way. The average person can read 300 words per minute. Conveniently, the average novel has around 300 words per page. So, we’re at a minute for every page. This means that if you commit to spending only 15 minutes a day reading, and then only five days per week, you’ll be able to read around 3,900 pages! That’s like 20 average size novels or three to four large detailed works on any subject. Fifteen minutes a day? That’s doable.

We hope you found this article encouraging and that maybe you might think to pick up some books – like Dave’s - that would help you in your journey towards a better relationship with Christ, and a better you.
