The Valley of Vision

By An Unknown Puritan

Lord, high and holy, meek and lowly, Thou hast brought me to the valley of vision, where I live in the depths, but see Thee in the heights; hemmed in by mountains of sin,
I behold Thy glory.

Let me learn by paradox that the way down is the way up, that to be low is to be high, that the broken heart is the healed heart, that the contrite spirit is the rejoicing spirit, that the repenting soul is the victorious soul, that to have nothing is to possess all, that to bear the cross is to wear the crown, that to give is to receive, that the valley is the place of vision.

Lord, in the daytime stars can be seen from deepest wells, and the deeper the wells the brighter thy stars shine; let me find Thy light in my darkness, Thy life in my death, Thy joy in my sorrow, Thy grace in my sin, Thy riches in my poverty, Thy glory in my valley.

Confessions I Never expect to Hear

By Bobby Witherington

“Lord, I don’t worship
You because I have things to do which have greater appeal to me.”

“I seldom attend because, frankly, I care nothing for the church and am not too concerned whither it lives or dies.”

“I don’t read the Bible because I’m disinterested in it.”

“I use profanity because I’m too irreverent to care, too ignorant to employ better words, and too disrespectful of my fellowman to bother.”

I gossip because I enjoy the sadistic pleasure of building myself up while tearing somebody else down.”

“I don’t do personal work because I don’t know enough

2

myself; I’m too indifferent to learn, and don’t really care whether my fellow man is saved or lost.”

I give very little to the church because I am covetous and haven’t learned to put the Lord first.”

“I wear immodest clothing because I am worldly minded and like the kind of attention I attract.”

“The reason I let 'hypocrites in the church' keep me away is because I’m so hypocritical myself that I want to appear righteous while refusing to do right.”

“Lord, I’m miserable because I have too much Bible knowledge in me to be content in sin, and too much sin in me to be happy following the Bible.” As stated in the title, I never expect to hear the above confessions. However, if the truth were known I doubt not but that the real reasons behind most excuses affecting our disservice to God are listed above. All of us, even those of us who may think that we stand, should “take heed” lest we fall (1 Corinthians 10:12), but I would especially urge those who frequently make excuses for not worshipping and serving to “Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith” (2 Corinthians 13:5).

Why cannot life’s big problems come when we are twenty and know everything?

Selected Thought

One moment can change a day.

One day can change a life.

One life can change the world.

Is This Our Problem?

A Selected Thought

If you read history, you will find that the Christians who did most for the present world were those who thought most of the next. It is since Christians have largely ceased to think of the other world that they have become ineffective in this world.

Paper Bait, Paper Mouse

By Bob West

You have probably heard the story of the fellow who was out of cheese, so he baited the mouse trap with a picture of a piece of cheese. The next morning the trap was sprung, having captured a picture of a mouse!

This reminds me of the efforts made by religious teachers (including some of my brethren), who try to attract souls to Christ without the real gospel. Instead, they substitute recreation, entertainment, and other social events in the hope of drawing large numbers who can then be "trapped" into becoming Christians. At least two things are wrong with this practice.

First of all, reaching the lost is not some kind of trapping expedition where the quarry is the unsuspecting sinner, who must be "baited" or "suckered" into accepting the Gospel.. While it is true that Jesus wants His disciples to be "fishers of men" (Matthew 4:19), most of the fishing done in that area had to do with nets, not fancy and deceptive baits. Jesus said, "Go and preach." He did not authorize us to sneak up on or entrap sinners.

In the second place, the real, unadulterated gospel is the only means God has given us to attract sinners. It alone is the "power of God unto salvation" (Romans 1:16). The knowledge of God is, according to our Master, sufficient to draw sinners to Christ (John 6:44-45). The use of some phony, worldly "bait" will, like the story above, result in snaring phony, worldly converts. We still reap what we sow. Sowing carnality is not likely to bring forth spirituality.

If we are faithful and diligent in forthrightly proclaiming the gospel to the lost, those with good and honest hearts will receive the word with gladness and be saved. Those who reject it cannot be saved by worldly means. This is God's original, simple, and effective plan for reaching mankind. Who are we to suggest that we can improve upon the Divine plan by using the world's methods. We need to be satisfied with God's provisions which are more than adequate to accomplish His purposes.
