

Warren King

The background of the image is a dense collage of various ancient Egyptian artifacts and symbols. It includes several wooden wheels with spokes, some with circular hubs. There are numerous tools and weapons, such as spears, arrows, knives, and a mace. Symbols include lotus flowers, fish, a grid pattern, a star, and various geometric shapes. Some items are shown in silhouette, while others are more detailed. The overall color palette is earthy, with browns, tans, and greys.

De 25:5-10, 2 Sa 1:11, Mt 26:65,
Ezr 9:3, Neh 13:25

Grace & the Culture of Exchange

The Culture of Exchanging Gifts

Ge 21:22-30, 1 Ki 5:10-12, 10:1-13

The background is a dense, textured collage of various ancient artifacts and symbols. It includes several wooden wheels with spokes, fish-shaped objects, circular coins or tokens, and various tools like spears and arrows. There are also some abstract geometric patterns and what appear to be small figurines or objects. The overall color palette is earthy, with shades of brown, tan, and black.

Grace & the Culture of Exchange

The Culture of Exchanging Gifts

What if the Gift Cannot be Matched?

Awkward!

Grace & the Culture of Exchange

The Culture of Exchanging Gifts

What if the Gift Cannot be Matched?

The Cross

Jn 3:16, Ro 5:7-8

Grace & the Culture of Exchange

The Culture of Exchanging Gifts

What if the Gift Cannot be Matched?

The Cross > "I am Yours Forever!"

That's the Exchange!

Ro 6:1, 12:1, Ep 2:8-10, Lu 17:10, 1 Co 15:8-10