

Gerald Schroeder

MIT PhD In Nuclear Physics & Planetary & Earth Sciences

Shroeder makes an interesting point regarding the fact that some scientists point to something in quantum fluctuations which acted and caused events which brought about the beginning of our universe.

Somewhat tongue-in-cheek, he concludes that in a NASA model of the beginning of all things, scientists have actually discovered the imprint of God!

His point is obvious: science does not deny God, it discovers his work and power!

Schroeder? Science Has Discovered God!

A deep space photograph showing a vast field of stars. In the center, there is a bright, glowing teal nebula. The stars are scattered across the dark background, with some appearing as sharp points of light and others as faint, diffuse clouds. The overall scene is a rich, multi-colored star field.
