The Messenger

I Am Ready

For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing" 2 Tim. 4:6-8

Often in time past I have heard these words quoted but I must say that in years past they did not hold for me the meaning they now hold. You see, having reached the age of four score and seven years, I know of a surety that in the not too distant future this old physical body will be finished and I will lay it aside and fly away to God's celestial shore (2 Cor. 5:1, John 14:1-3, 1 John 5:11-13)

Regardless of a person's age, every accountable person from the youngest to the oldest should be thinking seriously about the words of this passage because they tell us that there is a certain way we should be living as we make this pilgrimage of life if we expect to one day receive that promised crown of righteousness. We must ever fight the good fight of faith (1 Tim. 6:12), we must finish the course (Rev. 2:10) and we must keep the faith (1 Cor. 16:13, 1 Cor. 10:12, 1 Cor. 9:26-27). What a journey this will be for us if our eyes are fixed on the Lord Jesus Christ, trusting and confiding in Him, living each moment of every day as if we knew it would be our last day on planet earth (Heb.12:1-3).

Even though we may avoid thinking about it, we all know that the day will come in which we will put off this earthly tabernacle (Ecc. 9:5, 12:13-14, Heb. 9:27). Even though we will no longer walk on this earth, our reputation, our character and our influence will live on long after we die. All of us are going to be remembered as to how we lived, how we spoke, how we acted. Will your family, your friends, all who have ever known you remember that you were in Christ, devoted to his cause, seeking those things above (Matt. 6:33)? This is without a doubt one of the most, if not the most comforting, precious memories you can leave family and friends (1 Thess. 4:13). Will those memories be of one who gave full possession of their life to God, yeilding every member to Him (Eccl. 12:13, John 14:15, Gal. 2:20, Rom. 12:1)? I believe with all my heart that even after we have been laid to rest in the silent city of the dead, we will have an impact on the lives of our families and friends through the memories that will take up residency in their hearts.

All of us are now on an earthly journey that one day will come to an end. Our major concern should not be on when that day will come. It should be on whether or not we are ready to exit this world and enter the world that wil never end. The best thing we can do for ourselves (and others for that matter) is make sure that when the sun sets on our life, we are ready to be absent from this body and be at home with the Lord (2 Cor. 5:6-10).
