Living Forever On Planet Earth

Max Dawson

I have to confess to you that I am old-school when it comes to heaven. That is, I believe heaven is where God is. I believe that Christians are promised that they will ultimately be with God in heaven--forever.

I believe: Heaven is real. Heaven is for the redeemed. Heaven is where Jesus is now. Heaven is where I will go to be with Jesus. Planet earth is not heaven.

I bought a book this morning to read on Kindle. "The Real Heaven: It's Not What You Think" by Joe Beam.

I am already regretting the pittance I paid for it. It is one more book written by an evangelical author that argues that planet earth is the dwelling place of the righteous in eternity--planet earth is heaven.

It used to be that this materialistic doctrine was pretty much limited to the Jehovah's Witnesses. But now, more and more "conservative evangelicals" are buying into this. It is one of the most popular doctrines about eternity that is being promoted today.

There is another doctrine that is often promoted right alongside of it--the doctrine that there is no such thing as eternal punishment. Again, it used to be that the teaching that "there is no eternal hell" was pretty much limited to the Jehovah's Witnesses. Continued
