

Youth Recharge

Isaiah wrote 2700 years ago reminding us that even youth grow weary and faint, even to the point of stumbling and falling (Isaiah 40:30). Today some young people are strong physically, sharp mentally and social relationally. However, the challenge, even for those who look good externally, is how can I be stronger emotionally and spiritually.

Young people today struggle with motivation, meaning, purpose and destiny. They want to succeed and make a difference in this world, but sometimes find it challenging to get on and stay on the right path in order to achieve their goals. We all know that it can be easier to quit than to persevere through failure.

This Rising Above seminar will discuss some of the thoughts and emotions that bring people down, distracted from life and at times fighting the temptation of self-medication, isolation ... even suicide.

Rising Above

Monday - Jason Masteller
Tuesday - Daniel Smith
Wednesday - Jarrod Williams

April 15 - 17