A Church at Work

The background of the slide features a silhouette of a construction site at sunset. Several workers wearing hard hats are visible, engaged in various tasks. One worker on the left is pointing towards the right. In the center, a worker stands near a cluster of vertical rebar. To the right, another worker is seen near a horizontal beam. The sky is a bright, warm orange, creating a high-contrast scene with the dark silhouettes of the workers and the building's steel framework.
