God's Design

It's no secret that our world is changing. In many ways, this is not a new thing. The world has always been changing and the human race has always been subjected to cultural shifts throughout time. And yet, there is something different about the current state of our world, and our country specifically. Over the last several decades, we have seen monumental shifts in public belief on core issues, moral issues. These next several weeks, we will be looking at three of these: sexuality, life, and gender. With all of the "noise" in our society and everyone having an opinion on each matter, it seems like the best thing is to look to our Creator and see what He has to say about these issues. After all, He knows us better than anyone! He made us and loves us more deeply than we can imagine. The title of the series is called "God's Design." I hope you'll stay tuned through the month of March as we tackle some of these subjects and look at "God's design" for us as human beings.

Your hands have made and fashioned me;

give me understanding that I may learn your commandments.
