Anniversaries...

Abby and I are away this Sunday on a two-year delayed 10 year anniversary trip (thanks, COVID). Consequently, my thoughts are on anniversaries as I write this article. When I was first married, I always wondered how people could forget their anniversaries. Of course, as a young newlywed, everything was new and exciting! How could you possibly forget this wonderful day? As time went on, I gained an understanding for how this can happen. While I haven't technically forgotten an anniversary, I have been guilty of allowing the business of life to interfere with the planning of a proper anniversary celebration. Anniversaries can creep up on us, and by the time we realize the day, we haven't made plans or preparations to celebrate. While I technically didn't forget, I did fail to plan.

Have you ever failed to plan for something? Maybe it was something important and you realized that you also unintentionally communicated something in your failure to plan. You communicated that whatever it was didn't matter or that someone wasn't important. Thankfully, God didn't fail to plan. As soon as Adam and Eve sinned in the garden, He made arrangements for something else. Genesis 3:15 is sometimes regarded by Bible scholars as the first mention of the gospel and prophesies the relationship between Eve and the Serpent: "I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel." This was ultimately fulfilled in Jesus, in His defeat of Satan at the cross.

Whether we plan or not for important events, I'm thankful to serve a God who is always one step ahead. He's always thinking of the next thing because we're important to Him.

M.A.G.I Tree

This month's selected items will be warm weather outfits. We aim to provide each child with a new outfit (shirt, shorts/skirt or dress, underwear, and flipflops). In the back of the church, we have placed the giving tree just like we do at Christmas, each tag will have listed boy or girl and an age range. Please consider picking out a child (or as many as you feel led to select) and shopping for them. Stores are marking down summer styles, so now is the time to purchase these items so we can bless the most children possible! We would like to have all items received by Sunday, October 2d. If you have questions, please contact Sherri Lallathin or Ra Lene Henthorn.
